THE BREVITY BASKET.

Filled With Brief Mention of Many Minor Events of Yesterday.

Burglars entered Prof. Howe's house, 517 Seventh street, early yesterday morning and carried off valuable books and papers.

Mr. and Mrs. William S. Rose celebrated their silver wedding Monday night, and received the congratulations of a host of friends, as well as numerous and costly presents of silver.

Messrs. Raff and Carter swore out warrants yesterday against the ferry boats City of Washington and City of Alexandria for un- licensed bars. Judge Sull will hear the cases to-day.

The Union Transfer company has taken out a permit to build a stable on D street, between Thirteenth and Fourteenth streets, to cost $4,000. Its dimensions are 90 by 92 feet, and it will be two stories high.

Mrs. E. Wagner, while driving on her busi- ness wagon, collided Monday evening on D street near First with a wagon owned and driven by Mr. J. F. McHenry. Both were thrown out and painfully, though not danger- ously hurt.

Marriage licenses were issued yesterday to Andrew J. Payne and Annie C. Webb, both of Tenallytown, D. C.; Grandison Kol- ton and Julia Lomax, both of this city; Ed- ward F. W. McCallam, of this city, and Emma E. Chaney, of Alexandria, Va.

Mitchell, the late antagonist of Sullivan, and who is booked for a fight with Slade, the Maori protege of Jim Mac, will be in Wash- ington on Friday. He gives an exhibition under charge of his backer, Billy Madden, at the Comique.

An old gentleman named Henry Johnson, residing on O street, Georgetown, was knocked down and run over yesterday by a huckster wagon at the corner of Ninth and F streets. Mr. Johnson was just about getting into a car. He was seriously hurt and taken to Providence hospital. The huckster, Joseph King, was arrested for assault.

Eckington, the historic home of the famous publicist, Joseph Gales, will be sold at public auction on Friday afternoon. The estate con- tains eight or seven acres, and is situated on Boundary street at the head of New York avenue. The finest grove of trees in this section of country, known for two generations to Washingtonians, surrounds the mansion. For some years this magnificent grove has been used as a beer garden. Messrs. Edwards, Carlisle, Duvall, and Mitchell, trustees, sell the property.

In the reorganization of the district militia the men will form a brigade, each organiza- tion making a battalion, and the whole will be commanded by a brigadier general with a fully commissioned staff. There will be no change of uniform nor of officers, and no clashing of white or colored troops. The officers will be properly commissioned, and the troops be under the control of the gov- ernment. The official order for the reorgani- zation of the militia has not been signed by the President, and hence has not yet been promulgated.

The New Veterinary Station. The experimental station of the veterinary division of the U. S. agricultural department, recently established near this city, is now completed, and will be formally opened this week under the general supervision of Dr. D. E. Salmon, one of the most skillful scientific veterinarians known in the profession. His abundant experience as a scientific investiga- tor entitles him to the high distinction which he now holds before the country. The sta- tion is located about a mile from the north eastern boundary of this city, and con- tains about seven acres of ground, which is splendidly adapted to the uses for which it is designed, and improved by the erection of buildings fitted up nicely with stalls for the care of animals, and dissecting rooms and other conveniences required for scientific experiments and treatment of epide- mic diseases of domesticated animals. It is the intention to first take up the treatment of cattle diseases, commencing with pleuro- monia and Spanish or Texas fever. Hog and chicken cholera will also claim proper atten- tion, as they are considered matters of essen- tial interest and importance since they cause an aggregate loss annually of many millions of dollars to breeders.

The bright hopes that were entertained a few years ago of an extensive cattle trade with Europe are now threatened with total extinction through the prevalence of disease among the herds of western cattle. The action taken by foreign governments prohib- iting importations is because these diseases exist among the cattle of the United States. The interest involved is enormous, and the anticipated success awaiting the results of these experiments will be welcomed as the harbinger of a brighter day for one of the most important of our American industries.

Where to Gun and Fish. Perhaps the most practical, convenient, and complete publication on gunning and fishing, and their various auxiliaries ever printed, is the one recently issued by the Passenger De- partment of the Philadelphia, Wilmington, and Baltimore Railway company. Practical in that it not only informs in concise terms where the several kinds of game, fish, and birds may be sought to best advantage, but how to reach such places in the cheapest and most expeditious manner, including not only the rail but, where necessary, the stage and wagon lines, with cost.

Convenient in being reduced to pocket size, and in the arrangement of the matter under different heads, so that the reader in search of advice regarding a certain fish, duck, or bird will find it in a special chapter describing its habits, and peculiarities.

Complete, from the fact that it takes the entire peninsula, which contains Delaware and the eastern shores of Maryland and Virginia from the Chesapeake to the Atlantic coast. The kinds and cost of bait, proper and legal seasons of the year, cost of wagon or other transportation, location of principal hotels and boarding houses, and all information, such as those unacquainted with the country would like to know before leaving home for such a trip, have been carefully examined into and noted.

The book is profusely illustrated with cuts of fish and birds, and also contains a splendid map of this territory.

Copies may be had free by addressing Mr. J. K. Wood, General Passenger Agent, Phila- delphia.

A Cruel Assault. Alexander Speller, an old colored wood- sawyer, was employed on Monday by Jack Weston, captain of the schooner George and Martha, lying at Guinand's wharf, to cord wood. Weston discharged him at the end of the day for reporting to the measurer that Weston wanted him to cut wood more loosely than the law allowed. When Speller went to the wharf yesterday morning Weston became enraged and seized a large log of wood, with which he dealt "uncle Alex" a terrible blow across the elbow of his right arm, shattering the bone. The bystanders interfered. "Uncle Alex" was removed to the eight precinct station, where Dr. A. E. Johnson made him comfortable, after which he was taken to the Washington Asylum hospital. Weston was later arrested by officer Shelton.

MATTINGS, Carpets and Upholstery Goods.

PARLOR, DINING ROOM, LIBRARY FURNITURE!

We refer with especial pride to our advertisement of last week. Our sales ag- gregated considerably more than we expected. The four floors of our building were crowded continuously with buyers, and our force of employees was entirely too small to attend to their wants. We had no idea when we inaugurated the sale that it would result with anything but a partial success, but we were agreeably dis- appointed.

We will not enumerate anything particular this week, excepting a clearance of Odds and Ends that always accumulate more or less in a business like ours.

Remnants of Tapestry Brussels: Remnants of Body Brussels. Remnants of Moquette Carpet. Remnants of Three Plys. Remnants of Ingrains. Remnants of Lace Curtains. Remnants of Upholstery Goods.

In fact, we will not be particular, but will make Remnants of Everything.

OUR STOCK IS GREATLY REDUCED!

OUR PRICES CORRESPONDINGLY LOW!

Would remind the Reader that our Straw Mattings are offered by our Salesmen at prices beyond competition.
